Speaker David Egger on

Farming In The Tijuana River Valley

About The Speaker: David Egger is a farmer in the Tijuana River Valley who took over daily operations from his grandfather, Robert Egger. Robert came from Switzerland in the 1930's, helped establish the Swiss Club, including their Schwingfest events and established a successful dairy farm. He donated money and land for a private Catholic School and today Robert Egger, Sr. Recreation Park is named after him.

David will speak about his grandfather, the history of the once thriving farming community in the Tijuana River Valley and how farming has changed in the region to the present day.
